Alexandria Gazette

TUESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 27, 1878.

THE RULE OF THE TURKS.—On a lower bill west of Kantara, in Cyprus, stood a small detached fort, something like an outpost, to guard the approaches. On this spot is a little chapel dedicated to the Panaghia, still in good condition. In the last century some Greek monks were living here, but when the walls of their cells began to fall, they left the place and the district.

A hermit called Simeon now inhabits the ruins, and has done so, he told me, for this last forty five years. He is over eighty years of age, and is absolutely alone, not having even a dog, sheep or goat as his companion! When I visited the place in 1869 he told me his story in a few words, and it is a sad one.

He was born at a village near Constantino THE RULE OF THE TURKS .- Oa a lower bill in a few words, and it is a sad one.

He was born at a village near Constantino le. Before he was twenty five years of age, Lis father died, and left him a thriving business. At thirty he married a young girl of his village, and everything seemed to go well with him, when, one day, to his misfortune, the youthful and handsome face of his wife was remarked by a powerful Turk living in the Leighborhood. Dishonorable proposals were made to him, which he indignantly rejected. Soon after he was arrested by order of this Turk, on some false accusation; his wife disappeared, and became an inmate of this Turk harem; the hermit's house was burnt, and all Lis property destroyed. After being kept three years in prison, without trial or judgment, he was at last released, on the condition that he should leave Constantinople forever. He was put on board a vessel bound for the Archipelago, and landed at Cyprus a penniless and wretched man for life. Having lost all his manhood, he roamed like a wild beast among the mountains, living on herbs, olives and wild fruits, until he found, near Kantara, an old rock cut tomb, which became his habitation for awhile. Some time afterward he took possession of this chapel, wherein he sleeps and hoards his provisions, consisting of a little wheat and olives, which he raises in the vicinity of his abode. - Gen. De Cesnola's "Cyprus." FOR SALE OR RENT.

ICE CREAM, SODA WATER, &c. ICE CREAM

My Ice Cream Manufactory, one of the largcet in Virginia, still continues to supply private customers, Sunday schools, excursions, pienics, fairs, festivals and associations, as well as the trade, with that SUPERIOR CREAM that has made a name in this community, and is known everywhere as BRENGLE'S ICE CREAM. I could easily reduce its price by lowering its quality, but good cream, of fresh, pure, wholesome ingradients, cannot be furnished at a less price than I serve it. Of course, I could "grade my cream by the price," but my cream would lose the good name that years of fair dealing have won for it. I ask that persons abroad ordering "Brengle's Cream" from third parties will asture themselves that the cream sent is certainly from my establishment. I warrant my cream, and do not wish that inferior cream, sent out as mine, may injure its reputation. It is my aim to furnish the BEST CREAM IN AMERICA, and my customers are satisfied that I do so.
